Miss Danenhower Becomes the Bride of David N. Rust, Jr.

VERY BEAUTIFUL CEREMONY

Miss Pauline A. Peters Weds Mr. Ernest H. Meeks in Norfolk.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) ALEXANDRIA, VA., June 14.-The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Magruder Danenhower, of this city, and Mr. David N. Rust, Jr., of Alexandria county, which occurred this evening in old Christ Episcopal Church, was one of the prettiest of the fashionable weddings in Alexandria this season. The church was tastefully decorated with palms and daisies, making a yellow and white effeet on a dark background.

As the bridal party entered the aisle, a hynn was sung by the Chapter of Praise of the church, and while the coremony was being performed, Mr. Kenneth Ogden, of this city, sang a solo. A wedding march was played at the organ by Mrs. Charles W. Lennon as the bride and groom left the chancel. The ceremony was performed by Rev. William J. Morton, rector of Christ Church, and Harry B. Lee, Jr., of Baltimore, brother-Harry B. Lee, Jr., of Baltimore, brother-in-law of the groom.

J. Morton, rector of Christ Christ, and Harry B. Lee, Jr., of Baltimore, brother-in-law of the groom.

The bride was attired in a beautiful gown of white chiffon cloth over white silk, trimmed with duchess lace. She carried a shower bouquet of liles of the valley and roses. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Frances Danenhower as maid of honor. She was charmingly attired in a gown of white net over yellow and carried a shower bouquet of yellow roses. The bridesmaids were Miss Bessie Jones, of this city; Miss Lucy Rust, of Alexandria county, sister of the groom; Miss Annie Voight, of Norfolk, Va., and Miss Kate Pretiow, of Franklin, Va. They all were gowned in white net over white silk, and their dresses were gathered with sashes of yellow chiffon. They carried bouquets of white sweet peas.

Pain in the Head

Is a danger signal, warning you that the brain nerves are exhausted-irritated, and are undergoing an unnatural strain.

Frequent and prolonged at-tacks of pain weaken the generative power of the nerve cells of the brain, and lead to loss of memory, melancholy, spasms, epilepsy, and frequently insanity. When the brain nerves are weakened they are unable to supply sufficient nerve force to the nerves that control the lungs, heart, stomach and other organs, and these organs are thus robbed of energy, and unable to meet the demands upon them, and they get sick.

Stop the head pains with Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, and the influence upon your general health will be greater than you can realize.

The Right to Possess Rare, Antique Furniture Contested. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

WINCHESTER, VA., June 14 .- The right to possess rare antique mahogany furniture that is said to have once graced the residence of Reverdy Johnston, of Baltimore, while he was minister to France, and later as Attorney General and United States senator, formed the bone of contention in a suit just decided by a jury of the Circuit Court here.

The furniture was selzed by City Sergeant J. W. Taylor, who was appointed by the court to take charge of the Taylor Hotel, when it falled to do a satisfactory Hotel, when it falled to do a satisfactory business under the management of Col. Edward Contee Johnston, of Baltimore, several years ago, in order to secure the owners, who allege they held a claim against Johnston.

His daughter, Miss Anne Johnston, claimed that the furniture belonged to her, and that it could not be attached her, and that it could not be attached for her father's debt, which he declined to settle, because of certain promised re-pairs not having been made to the hotel. Miss Johnston claimed that she could rent Miss Johnston claimed that she could rent the furniture of her distinguished grand-father to a Washington party for one hundred dollars a month, and the Jury rendered a verdlet for her of $143. It is said that the case will be appealed and the furniture that has been used by so many titled people of Europe is now in the hands of Miss Johnston.
